Hunter College Prepares Itself As Hostess To UNO

By LARRY HAUCK
NEW YORK, March 22.—The Bronx, home of the New York Yankees, five colleges and the Bronx cheer, becomes the capital of the world on Monday.

After one of the fastest conversion jobs in building history, Hunter college quarters are ready for the opening sessions of the United Nations powerful security council. The buildings were altered and outfitted in two weeks; contractors said it was "normally a six-month job." The world organization has taken over three buildings, the gymnasium, housing the main meeting room and principal conference rooms, Davis hall for offices and Student's hall for its spacious cafeteria.

The main room, done in old rose buff and soft tans, is a scene of solemn luxury. Thick rugs and 3,500 yards of saffron drapes enrich the interior. The 72-foot maple council table, U-shaped, is centered off the south wall with a table for recorders and stenographers directly in front.

Pacing the dais is a graduated floor with 200 plush-covered seats for official observers. All speeches will be over a public address system.

Press Accommodations Ready
Elevated, glass-enclosed booths along two walls will care for broadcasting and television. Press galleries flank the room on the other two sides. Two smaller gyms have been converted into a private conference room for the council and a lounge with a 20-foot mahogany bar.

Considerable space has been given over to the press, including the swimming pool now covered to form the principal news room.

Batteries of telephones line the corridors and thousands of feet of telephone wires have been strung to carry the stories of hundreds of newsmen.

One New York city bank has set up a branch in Davis hall. Double signs on doors—English and French—are the official languages—lend an international air to the corridors where once strolled Hunter's co-eds.

Outside are spacious grounds and diversified scenery. On one side the waters of a reservoir lap lazily at the campus edge while on the other runs a noisy elevated line. The Bronx is proud of its cultural aspects and brags of having Fordham university, New York university, Manhattan college, the Salve Regina, Army college and Hunter within its borders.

Beulah of Radio Fame Dies of Heart Attack

HOLLYWOOD, March 22.—The voice of Beulah, radio's chuckling Negro maid, was stilled yesterday by a heart attack.

Beulah was neither a Negro nor a maid. She wasn't even a woman. She was Martin Hurt, at 40 a veteran of 16 years in radio. He succumbed as, shortly after complaining of illness, his wife was assisting him to bed.

Hurt was in vaudeville before 1930, when he went into radio. His debut as Beulah was made two years ago on the Fibber McGee show. An instant hit, he was made star of his own Sunday afternoon radio program last June.

STALIN TELLS AP NO NATION SEEKING WAR

In Exclusive Interview Today, Premier Lauds UNO As Peace Hope

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, March 22.—Prime Minister Stalin told the Associated Press today "I am convinced that neither the nations nor their armies are striving for a new war," the Moscow radio said.

"They want peace," Stalin said in the interview as broadcast from Moscow, "and are striving for a guarantee of peace."

"That means," Stalin said, "that the present fear of war is caused not from that quarter. I think that the present fear of war is caused by the activities of certain political groups who occupy themselves with propaganda for a new war and who are thereby sowing the seeds of discord and lack of confidence."

Moscow said AP Correspondent Eddy Gilmore asked Stalin what significance he attributed to the United Nations as a means of preserving international peace, and Stalin replied:

"I attribute great significance to the United Nations Organization since it is a serious instrument for the preservation of peace and international security."

"The strength of this international organization consists in the fact that it is based on the principle of the equality of the rights of states and not on the principles of the domination of some states over others."

"If the United Nations Organization succeeds in continuing to preserve the principle of equality, it will undoubtedly play a great, positive role in the cause of guaranteeing universal peace and security."

Leetonia Girls Struck By Truck

Nine year old Geraldine Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson of R. D. 1, Leetonia, is in serious condition at Salem City hospital today as a result of injuries received when she and a companion ran into the path of a lime truck on Columbia st., Leetonia, shortly after noon yesterday.

The third grade student and her friend, Edith Schoaff, aged 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schoaff of R. D. 1, Leetonia, were crossing the street from the Sheets grocery to the South Side school building when the accident occurred.

The truck, carrying five tons of lime, was operated by John Knisley, 109 Prospect st., Salem. Knisley brought the two girls to the hospital.

The Thompson girl was injured seriously, attendants say, but the Schoaff girl was released after treatment for cuts and bruises.

Both are members of the third grade class at the South Side school in Leetonia.

Gardner told state highway patrolmen he fell asleep while driving.

No one was injured when cars driven by Robert Mitchell and Harley L. Swiger, both of R. D. 3, Salem, collided at the intersection of the Lisbon and Pigeon roads at 8 p. m. Thursday.

Trainmen, Shriners Secure Aid For Paralyzed Girl, 14

(By Associated Press)
COVINGTON, Tenn., March 22.—The Illinois Central's fast Chickasaw limited ground to an unscheduled stop at a muddy crossroads near here a minute after last midnight.

There it took on a prized passenger — 14-year-old, crippled little Minnie Rose Webb, off to St. Louis on her greatest adventure.

Minnie Rose was on her way to the Shrine hospital for crippled children to see if doctors there can make her walk like her playmates.

A crowd of shriners, newsmen and photographers furnished the brown-haired, thin-faced girl plenty of company as she waited by the lonely road for the passenger train.

Fatigued by a day of excitement that included hurried preparations, picture-taking and radio broadcasts, Minnie Rose was nodding in her wheel chair when she was lifted to the platform and rolled to the special, flower-bedecked drawing

Senate Blasts On A-Bomb Controls, Unity Flare Up

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 22.—Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) said today those who cry "Communism" at the sound of a kind word for Russia are blocking the most direct road toward an enduring peace.

The Florida senator told reporters he regards as part of "the current pattern of attack" assertions made by Senator Ball (R-Minn.) in opposing Pepper's suggestion that this country destroy its atom bombs and go into a big three meeting with "clean hands."

Ball said in a senate speech yesterday that the American Communist party is "beating the drums" against an atomic control bill amendment which he described as "a minimum safeguard to national security" but which Pepper had criticized in his foreign policy address on Tuesday.

"I suspected that would be the first form of attack," Pepper said today. "You can be anti-Russian and be a good American but if you have a kind word to say for Russia you are called a Communist."

Asserting that his proposals "came from my own heart," Pepper added that he considers it "neither fair nor good judgment" to proceed on the premise that no agreement can be reached with Russia.

"Only by a reconciliation of opinion between the United States, Great Britain and Russia can we obtain lasting peace," he said.

Ball told his colleagues that destruction of this nation's atomic bombs and the plants in which they are made — as suggested by Pepper — would commit the United States to a policy of appeasement because of its resulting impotence.

"Russia has an estimated 10,000,000 men under arms, and her armies are occupying Iran in violation of a treaty and threatening Turkey," the Minnesota said. "No one knows what secret weapons Russia has developed or is producing behind her iron curtain of isolation."

Ball said that Communists had raised the cry of "Fascism" against the atomic control bill amendment sponsored by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) to set up a military board which could appeal civilian commission decisions it felt infringed on national security.

Chairman McMahon (D-Conn.) of the senate's special atomic committee has asserted that the amendment "means that the army will run things."

LESS BREAD AND SALAD DRESSING O. K., OPA RULES

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 22.—The nation's restaurants and hotels can serve less bread and salad dressing than usual without trimming prices — if customers raise no objections.

OPA authorized this today to help put into effect recommendations of the President's family emergency committee that Americans cut down on these products so that more wheat and edible oils can be sent abroad.

Meanwhile, the government tried to solve a domestic food problem. The Office of Economic Stabilization, in an attempt to check what one official termed "a pretty serious black market in meat," ordered subsidy payments automatically reduced or in some cases forfeited when packers pay above-celling prices for cattle.

OPA said, eating places, including railroad dining cars, can reduce portions of wheat and oil products so long as they display a notice that this is being done, and provided they offer "to supply the normal portion to any customer who specifically requests it."

The restaurant order was the second issued by OPA in line with the family committee's recommendations. Last week the agency authorized a reduction up to 10 per cent in the weight of bread loaves and bakery products, without a corresponding price cut.

The move against meat black markets was prompted, an OPA official said, "by the difficulties many packers have been encountering in trying to buy cattle at legal prices."

Red Cross $7,181 Short of 1946 Goal

With reports in from all but three of the city's block leaders, collections in the Salem Red Cross fund campaign total $13,319.78, David Bevan, chairman of the drive, announced today.

Most of the city has been covered in an extensive house-to-house canvass and reports indicate that Salem citizens are cooperating as wholeheartedly this year as they did in the war years.

Local officials hope to reach the 1946 goal of $20,500 by tomorrow night and final reports from Washingtonville, Damascus, and Perry and Butler townships may provide the balance needed to send the community over the top.

Mrs. Donald Weikart, Washingtonville chairman, and C. G. Long, who is heading the drive in Damascus, have both reported successful campaigns. Total figures are not available.

Drives in Perry township, under the direction of Co-Chairmen Guler Greenstein and Price Cope, and in Butler township where Lowell Whinnery is in charge, are not yet concluded. No figures have been received from either of these sections.

Business Area Hit Hard; 14 Firemen Hurt

(By Associated Press)
PITTSBURGH, March 22.—Fire swept with explosive fury through a three block area in downtown Pittsburgh early today, destroying a dozen food and supply buildings and doing damage estimated at between $500,000 and $700,000.

Fourteen firemen were hurt by falling debris and toppling walls and 40 freight carloads of butter, lard, sugar, paint, coal and other products were burned.

The fire was described by firemen as the worst the city has experienced in 30 years.

Flames were controlled at 4 a. m., but 22 lines of hose still spurted millions of gallons of water into the buildings to quench smoldering flames.

Covered Three Blocks

The fire leaped from building to building in the three block area from First to Fourth avenue, in the lower tip of the Golden triangle.

A system of inter-locking trestles on the Pittsburgh and West Virginia railway, two and three story supply buildings and one-story distributing houses were fire swept.

Thousands gathered during the night watch. The fire lit the "Point" area where the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers converge. Flames shot 100 feet into the air and threatened for a time the eight-story Wabash building.

City Police Supt. Harvey Scott summoned members of his bomb and arson squad to inspect the ruins in search for cause of the fire.

Several explosions occurred. Firemen attributed these to grease and to a number of mercury tanks stored in one of the buildings. An emergency hospital for injured firemen was set up in St. Mary's Catholic church, near the scene.

Fire Chief William DeKis estimated the damage at $500,000 but some business men whose property was lost said losses would approach $700,000.

Action Delayed In Assault Case, Pending Recovery

(By Associated Press)
JOLIET, Ill., March 22.—Prosecutor James E. Burke today delayed serving a warrant charging assault with intent to kill against James F. Lincoln, Jr., 30, in the hammer beating and shooting of a nine-year-old farm girl, pending outcome of the child's condition.

Lincoln, father of two small children and son of a wealthy Cleveland industrialist, remained in the Joliet jail without a formal charge being filed. Burke, who said the salesman son of the Cleveland manufacturer had admitted beating the Williams girl with a hammer and shooting her several times Wednesday after she resisted his advances, asserted he would oppose Lincoln's release on bond.

At the Silver Cross hospital, the physician attending the Williams girl, who suffered a fractured skull by hammer blows and was shot six times as she fled from Lincoln's car, said it would be at least a week before he would give any prediction of her recovery.

A preliminary examination, the physician said, indicated the child had been shot six times, five bullets passing through her hips and shoulders and one remaining in her abdomen. He reported her condition as "critical."

Mrs. George Williams has not left her daughter's bedside at the hospital since she took her there Wednesday after the child fled from her home.

No Offense Intended

Americans are honestly interested in the charge by one of Russia's controlled newspapers that the forthcoming atomic bomb tests are an effort to intimidate the world and set up some sort of atomic imperialism.

This is exactly the impression that Americans would like to avoid. It is one of the reasons why there has been no popular rush to acclaim the idea of testing the bomb. There has been, instead, a great deal of soul-searching about the whole subject of atomic explosions.

If the Russians were in possession of all the background facts about the atomic bomb in American hands, they would know that delegates to the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ, representing a vast section of public opinion, recently adopted a resolution which stated that Americans should atone for the horrible results of the only bombs used in warfare and renounce further use of so horrible a weapon against helpless human beings. They would know there is no wish among the American people stronger than the wish that something might happen to secure the safety of every person alive against the possibility of another war in which atomic bombs would be used.

They also would know that the forthcoming demonstrations are being regarded by the American people with a mixture of horror and skepticism—horror because there is so deadly an instrument of destruction to test, skepticism because many Americans, not understanding what remains to be found out, wonder if the demonstrations are not chiefly to satisfy the curiosity of their own military men. It is apparently just another one of those cases where Americans give offense without intending to give it.

The Fact Remains

The information given Pearl Harbor investigators by the former secretary of war, Henry L. Stimson, adds to evidence already gathered showing that Washington was more aware of the imminence of war with Japan than the American people, just before Dec. 7, 1941.

Because of the proof he can show of this awareness, Mr. Stimson seems to conclude that whatever the public lacked in information was caused by its failure to interpret properly what it was being told by public officials and by newspapers. This is a curious line of reasoning, but a sound one, nevertheless, because something of the sort actually happened.

A review of the files of newspapers before the Pearl Harbor attack reveals that every newspaper carrying a comprehensive news report did tell that war with Japan was imminent. This is similarly true of reports about Europe before 1939. By hindsight, one wonders how Americans could have been so blind as to fail to see what was obvious.

Yet, they did. Many newspapermen—by hindsight—have wondered about this. Many have reached this conclusion: that in such momentous matters as war the public naturally and properly depends on official information. The press does not make decisions. It only reports decisions. The fact that remains after everything else has been said about the attack that surprised the War Department, Navy department and the American public at Pearl Harbor is that no statement about war being either inevitable or imminent was issued from the White House, the only place that counted. That is of small importance now, except as it helps to undo the absurd credo that those who were taken by surprise somehow were to blame for not knowing what was coming.

Raise For Soldiers

Another proposal for dissolving the dilemma of postwar military security has been added to Gen. Hershey's idea of easing into compulsory military training by extending the Selective Service act indefinitely. The day after Gen. Hershey described his plan to the chairman of the House military affairs committee, the secretaries of the War and Navy departments recommended to a Senate military affairs sub-committee that pay rates for soldiers and sailors be raised 20 per cent to attract more volunteers.

It is doubtful if a 20 per cent raise would be enough to put the armed services into robust competition with civilian employers for manpower, though that is given as the reason for requesting it. Real competition would require a great deal more than that—say twice the present rate. This is part of the American security dilemma—the awkward fact that in a land of opportunity the armed services cannot compete successfully in the wage market.

In considering our own problem of military security, too little attention is given to the fact that huge standing armies in countries like Russia, Germany, Japan and France before World War II were byproducts of unemployment. Army service in many cases was a desirable alternative to civilian privation, not because the pay was high but because the food was good and the work was steady. The United States has a special security problem because, ironically, it has too much security within its own borders.

Henry's Party Line

Henry Wallace's idea for purging congressmen who vote their convictions instead of their party affiliation is a desperate dig at the coalition of southern Democrats and Republicans in the House of Representatives.

The coalition works like this: whenever Republicans vote in full strength, as they do more often than Democrats, and can attract 26 majority votes to their side, they are in position to control the action of the House. On controversial issues recently, this coalition of conviction has been more potent than the Democratic majority. The same natural division is emerging in the Senate. The party line that was the secret weapon of the New Deal, itself a coalition, ceased to be compulsory when Franklin D. Roosevelt's death put congressmen back on their own resources in re-election contests.

Mr. Wallace's proposal for reinstating it as a matter of compulsion shows more desperation than wisdom, especially in the light of his own position as a renegade Republican who decided to join the New Deal because his own party was cramping his style.

Possum's Choice

The other day an opossum, shipped to somebody on Capitol Hill, gnawed his way out of his crate and went wandering through the House office building. Probably figured it was better to be investigated for lobbying than to be skinned, stewed, and tailed in committee.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Penicillin In Ointment Base

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

PENICILLIN has proved to be such a wonderworker against serious general infections that everyone will be glad when it can be added to the family medicine chest as a weapon against infected cuts, burns, and other skin disorders.

Penicillin might be compared to a human genius, marvelous in his own line, but temperamental and unstable, and requiring special handling. The problem has "always been to get it to 'stay put' in an easily applied substance.

Cream or Ointment

Now, Dr. Philip Greer and Harvey D. Hebb of Canada report that penicillin can be successfully added to a cream or to an ointment and thus, spread directly on infected skin to hasten its cure.

These physicians made up various creams and ointments, some of lanolin, some of wax, some of stearic acid, some of mineral oil, sterilized them and then added penicillin. In a number of the preparations, the penicillin seemed to retain its potency or power to heal, for two or three weeks when stored at cold temperatures.

Used Promptly

None of the preparations appeared sufficiently stable to permit manufacturing large quantities at a time. In other words, it would appear advisable, if a penicillin cream or ointment is to be used, that it be made up fresh and used promptly.

Care must also be taken to keep penicillin creams and ointments sterile, since molds may get into them and destroy the penicillin. This is done by not putting anything which is not sterile into the jar containing the penicillin preparation.

When penicillin cream was spread on infected burns, it was found that it began to lose its potency after about 48 hours. Hence, a daily change of dressings would appear necessary, at the least every two days.

In impetigo, a skin disease, and in infections of the beard, good results were obtained.

Sinus Infections

Penicillin cream was also used for treating sinus infections. In doing this, the doctors injected a small amount of the penicillin cream into the affected sinus every day until the area where the penicillin was applied. Since it would appear that these patients were sensitive either to the penicillin or something in the cream base, the chances for development of this skin irritation should be borne in mind whenever a penicillin cream is to be used for ten days or longer.

Penicillin in the home medicine cabinet is still in the future but it can be stated that doctors are overlooking no chance to make full use of the great new healing drug. As time goes on, it is possible that new methods of applying it will be learned, and that new uses for the methods we now have will be discovered. Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

OFFICERS

I think it will help enlistments and will do away with some of the bad feeling that exists between officers and men.

There has been no hint yet that the Navy contemplates a similar move.

The War department's decision was not considered radical by old army men who pointed out that, except for insignia, there was no difference in uniforms worn by officers and enlisted men in World War I.

Under the new order, issued last night, all personnel will wear battle jackets and trousers of the same olive drab shade now used in enlisted men's clothing.

For summer tropical wear, the duty uniform for all ranks will continue to be the familiar khaki, with the addition of a battle jacket in tropical worsted material.

Stimson Says U. S. Pondered Jap Blow

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 22—Capitol Hill learned for the first time today that the United States debated beating Japan to the punch in the crucial days just before Pearl Harbor.

This sidelight on contemporary history was supplied by former Secretary of War Stimson in a statement he furnished the senate-house committee investigating the Dec. 7, 1941, debacle in Hawaii.

Too ill to appear at the committee's public hearings, Stimson recounted in his statement how President Roosevelt's "war cabinet" nine days before Pearl Harbor considered and rejected a surprise American attack on the Japanese because of their ominous task force movements into the Southeast Asia area.

Youngstown Youth Gets Draft Notice Through Consulate

NEW DELHI, March 22.—John M. Balph heard the call of his country today and immediately confronted headquarters of the India-Burma theater with one of the knottiest problems it has.

Balph, 18, was graduated in 1944 from Youngstown South High School. He has been in India four months as a student of Forman Christian College in Lahore. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Balph, are non-denominational missionaries.

The draft board greetings reached Balph through the United States consulate in Bombay, to which he had reported upon arrival under terms of his student leave from the United States.

In shirt sleeves and lugging a mail suitcase and blanket, Balph came here yesterday after spending the night at the 100th U. S. Army station hospital, where he easily passed a pre-induction physical examination.

Ordered held overnight in barracks, Balph's formal induction was delayed while officers thumbed through regulations and asked higher echelons for instructions.

The question of whether Balph would get his overseas service in the United States was bandied among officers and men soon returning home. A great stickler was the problem of providing basic training in a theater which is closing shop.

Capt. Treadwell S. Place of Exford, N. Y., of the theater adjutant's office, said Balph listed clerical work and truck driving among his abilities and that for a time he probably would be used in the office.

Less Meat, Milk, Poultry Seen For Next 15 Months

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 22.—The nation's farms appeared likely today to turn out less meats, milk and poultry products for the next 15 months or so.

But the reduction apparently will not be serious enough to force a return to rationing.

An agriculture department survey on farmers' 1946 planting intentions indicates that livestock feed grain supplies, already far short of requirements, may continue below demands for a year after this season's crops are harvested.

The present shortage of corn and other feed supplies is forcing many farmers to curtail production of meat animals, poultry and dairy products.

On the other hand, the supply of bread grains, also far below demands of domestic consumers and of famine-plagued areas abroad, appears likely to be restored by another bumper wheat crop.

Hope For Heavy Wheat Crop

Should this crop turn out as favorably as now indicated, it might be possible for the government to end its present wheat conservation program by late summer, thus the edict for darker flour and bread could be lifted without curtailing grain shipments to hungry areas abroad.

The planting survey released yesterday had one particularly dark spot. It indicated that the country may continue to be short of food fats and oils for possibly another year.

Prospective acreages of soy beans and flax seed, principal sources of vegetable oils, are considerably short of government goals.

Given favorable weather during the growing season, and assuming that farmers will carry out their planting intentions, the production of vegetables, rice, potatoes and sweet potatoes should be ample.

The nation's cornfields appear likely to be about the same size as last year but about five per cent below government recommendations. The survey also showed that acreages of barley, grain sorghums and tame hay might not come up to goals.

Catholic Daughters To Attend Pontifical Mass

Court Salem No. 1021, Catholic Daughters of America, has received as invitation from The Most Reverend James A. McFadden, Bishop of Youngstown, to attend the Solemn Pontifical mass to be offered by His Eminence Edward Cardinal Mooney, S.T.D., Archbishop of Detroit, at 11 a. m. Monday at St. Columba Cathedral, Youngstown.

The group is also invited to attend a reception for Cardinal Mooney, to be given by the Clergy and Laity of the Youngstown diocese from 7 to 9 p. m. Monday at the Youngstown Catholic Action center.

Rev. Fr. Maurice J. Casey, former pastor of St. Paul's Catholic church here, will be a sub-deacon at the Solemn Pontifical mass.

Date palms produce from 100 to 400 pounds of dates a year.

Lincoln's car a half mile from her farm home.

The elder Lincoln, president of the Lincoln Electric Company of Cleveland, accompanied by Attorney Lloyd Heth of Chicago, met his son yesterday in the state's attorney's office. Later he said he was ready to fight the charge "all the way". He said his son's skull was fractured in an automobile accident 10 years ago and "there is not the slightest doubt that this event is directly traceable to that injury".

Young Lincoln, Chicago sales representative for his father's firm, is the father of a daughter, Lucy, 5, and a son, Jeff, 3. His wife, Laura, an expectant mother, described Lincoln as a "wonderful husband and father," and asserted she would "stick by" him.

REST HOME RULES UNDERGO CHANGES

State Expected To Adopt 150 New Regulations In Near Future

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, March 22—A tightening up of rest home operations in Ohio was virtually assured today through more than 150 proposed new regulations which are expected to become effective with only minor changes.

The proposals were advanced by 50 rest home operators and representatives of social and welfare agencies at a gathering here yesterday.

Ira M. Lamoreaux, chief of the State Welfare department's Division of Aid for the Aged, reported that the proposals evoked "no real objections" and predicted they would be adopted by the state with only minor changes.

The new rules—covering details of licensing, building requirements, safety, sanitation, provisions for care of residents and records kept by the home operators—become effective 10 days after filing with the secretary of state.

Rejections Approved

One of the major proposals would give the division chief the right to refuse for one year an application for a home in the same building where the applicant's license had been denied or revoked.

Another would give anyone whose application for a license was rejected or whose license was revoked or suspended, the right to appeal in common pleas court.

Other proposals would:

- 1) Require the listing of all personal effects, including clothing and jewelry, of patients upon admission to the homes—one copy going to the resident or guardian and the other being retained by the home operator.
- 2) Require that residents' food fare conform to nutritional standards for inactive or incapacitated patients outlined by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.
- 3) Require that all medicine, drugs and first aid equipment be kept in a locked compartment.
- 4) Make the rest home subject to requirements of local sanitary, building and safety departments in addition to the division's home inspection section.

Card Mailed 27 Years Ago Reaches Destination

NEW CASTLE, Pa., March 22.—Postmaster William R. Hanna has a post card for Carl McGeehan, if he can find him. The card was mailed from East Palestine, O., 18 miles from here.

When the card was canceled in the East Palestine postoffice Feb. 4, 1919, McGeehan was in the Shenango Valley hospital here.

The card apparently was lost in East Palestine.

It arrived in New Castle today 27 years late. The hospital has been dismantled and nobody here knows where McGeehan is.

Lots of Coffee Trees

Billions, not millions, are used to count the stand of coffee trees. The state of Sao Paulo, Brazil, contains more coffee trees than all the trees in orchards in North America and Europe combined, according to estimates.

The Coast Guard's role in aviation, especially in wartime, was vividly demonstrated in 1943 when it made 450 assistance flights, rescued 64 persons, located and directed rescue of over 500 victims of sea disasters, and transported 82 emergency cases.

Interest In Salem Invitational Basketball Tournament Rises

Two Salem Teams Entered Thus Far; List Of Entrants Expected To Surpass 20

Five teams, including two aggregations from Salem, have notified Joe Kelley that they intend to participate in Salem's 12th annual invitational basketball tournament which is scheduled to be run off the last three days of next week at the Memorial building.

Despite the fact that entries are not pouring in, Kelley said today that this year's classic should turn out to be one of the most successful ever held here.

Upwards of 20 teams have written Kelley asking for entry blanks, thus indicating that interest in the event is running high.

The two local outfits already entered are Wayne Slinger's Goodrich Collegians and the American Legion. At least three other Salem teams are expected to sign up before the Tuesday midnight deadline for entries.

Fairport Harbor, recent winner in the tough Cortland tourney, the Akron Scott-Paige Billiards and Parma Heights are other teams entered thus far.

Formerly known as the Little Cities tournament, the affair was not held last season due to a shortage of manpower. The Akron Steinbergs, one of the toughest teams in the Rubber City season after season, reign as defending champions by virtue of their win over the Salem Strains in the 1944 finals.

Whether the Steinbergs will protect their laurels this year remains to be seen. Thus far, Kelley has had no indication that they are planning to enter.

Probable participants in this year's tourney, in addition to the five combines already entered, include the East Liverpool American Legion, which has shown its wares here this season, Parma, three Akron quintets, Chester and Newell, W. Va., a team or two from Youngstown, Greenford, Gallon, Buckeye, Frozen Foods, the David Mead distillery, the Meadville, Pa., Springfield Township Vets, Salem Mullins, and the Westminster college varsity, which is seeking a backer in Salem.

Several Canton quintets may perform here provided the Canton Township tournament ends before the Salem entry deadline lapses.

Among the stars of the tournaments of former years who will be missing when play begins Thursday are Wyndol Gray, former Akron South luminary, who sparked a Hubbard aggregation to the title in 1941, Fairfield's scintillating Reash twins, Dick and Bob, who led the Kent Getz Hardware to the 1942 championship, Tommy Kin-kaid, ex-Toronto High and Ohio State star, who holds the record for most points scored in a single game, Herb Brown, former Salem High coach, who was placed on the all-tourney team several times, and numerous others, many of whom are still in the armed forces.

Gray currently is pacing a red-hot Harvard university quintet which has won 23 of 21 games this year while the whereabouts of the other court aces, with the exception of Brown, is not known. Brown's work in Dayton will undoubtedly keep him from playing in this year's event.

Should the number of teams entered exceed Kelley's expectations, eliminations will be started Wednesday evening instead of Thursday, he said.

Drawings for pairings in the tourney will be held as soon as possible after the entry deadline has expired.

BENEDICTINE TOP IN RATINGS AMONG INSTITUTE ROLLS

Middleton Favored Over Toledo; Liverpool Has Slim Edge Tonight

Cleveland Benedictine High school continues to maintain the top rating among 724 Ohio high schools rated under the Scholastic Sports Institute compilations on comparative score basis through Saturday, March 16.

Cleveland holds sway over the state-wide picture by a slim 11 point margin, with Middletown, leading contender for the Class A crown, in second position.

This district's cage squads are paced by East Liverpool, now ranking seventh in the state, Columbus in 39th position and Salem in 44th. Coach Bob Miller's lads dropped 2 points in rating and 10 places since closing tournament play.

With only the tournament teams—eight of them in the two classes—still performing, Middletown looms as the likely winner of the Class A crown and Wayneburg and Worthington as the two major challengers for the B crown, according to the point ratings.

Middletown is given a 71.8 index rating, while its opponent in tonight's semi-final at Toledo—Toledo Woodward—gets a 58.7 rating—the lowest of the four A contenders.

East Liverpool's rating this week is 62.8 as compared to a close 61.6 rating given its foe, Akron North. The 1.1 point advantage would indicate a terrifically close battle between the two in the semi-finals at 7:30 p. m. tonight.

In the B picture, of the four remaining teams, Wayneburg rates a half-line edge over Worthington when the two clash at 7:30 tonight at Springfield. Wayneburg rates 60.5 points and Worthington 60.4—a difference of but one-tenth of one per cent.

A comparison between Bradford (58.1) and Farmer is impossible on this basis as Farmer is not listed among the top 50 teams, Class A and B, in the state.

Final ratings for the season are to be released next week by the Institute.

Four Months Of Rivalry Reaches Climax In Class A And B State Final Set

BY HAROLD HARRISON
Ohio Associated Press Sports Editor

More than four long months of bitterly fought rivalry reaches its climax tonight and tomorrow in Toledo and Springfield in what one wag chooses to call "the cage conceptions of 1946."

Two teams—one in Class "A" and one in Class "B"—are just two games away from Ohio's coveted High school basketball championships.

Burdened with the favorite's role in Class "A" are Middletown's undefeated Middles but when you get down to only four teams none can be given more than a hairline edge over any other. So East Liverpool, Akron North and Toledo Woodward are treading close on the coat tails of the high flying lads from Butler county who are making their third appearance in the state finals in as many years.

In the Class "B" affair at Springfield the No. 1 choice probably is Wayneburg which, like Middletown, hasn't lost a game all season. But off their season records, the Class "B" teams should be even more tightly matched than their big brothers at Toledo.

No team in the Class "B" finals has lost more than three games and there are only a total of six defeats for all four teams. Battling with Wayneburg will be Worthington, Farmer and Bradford.

Opening the fireworks at Toledo before a crowd that is a mortal clinch to be a standing room only mob of almost 8,000 will be East Liverpool (23-3) and Akron North (14-6). They'll be followed on the floor by Middletown (24-0) and Toledo Woodward (19-3). The winners will tangle in the championship game Saturday night.

At Springfield, the honors of opening the tournament will fall to Farmer (30-1) and Bradford (26-2). They will be followed by Wayneburg (26-0) against Worthington (24-3).

The Friday night losers will play a consolation game Saturday night followed by the championship tilt between the Friday night winners.

Regardless of which team wins at Springfield it will be a new champion in every sense of the word. Northridge, the 1945 title holder, was eliminated by Bradford a week ago and none of the four finalists ever has taken the crown in all the years Ohio has been having state tournaments.

Farmer, which has built a great team from a male enrollment of only 33, will be playing in a final tournament for the first time in history.

Two of the Class "A" finalists are former champions but last year's winners—Bellevue—was knocked out in its first tournament start.

Akron North, biggest surprise in this year's final foursome, won the championship in 1935 and 1939. Middletown was the victor in 1944.

In fact, if they should win this year the Middles could say they came just about as close as is humanly possible to winning three straight titles—and still miss. After winning in 1944 they were beaten by Bellevue last year in the last four seconds of the championship game.

ROOKIES SHOWING UP WELL IN WEST COAST BALL CAMPS

Ralph Kiner, Bob Dillinger Appear To Be Prize Newcomers In '46

BY BILL BECKER
LOS ANGELES, March 22.—The rookies that bloom in the spring, tra-la, oftentimes wind up in Podunk come July. But the four major league clubs training in this Citrus belt have quite a few newcomers who should become better known as time passes.

Prize rookies, off their showing to date, are Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh Pirates' outfielder, and Bob Dillinger, St. Louis Browns' third baseman. Both may become "rookie of the year" in their respective leagues.

Kiner, 23, lanky, loose-jointed free-swinging, has resembled a right-handed Ted Williams in batting 500 and clubbing a half-dozen homers in the Pirates' first dozen exhibitions. He covers center field with big, easy strides and pegs long strikes.

Dillinger, 25, is the best bespectacled player to come up in years, veteran observers agree. A slick fielder and a sharp, if not long hitter, Dillinger is considered a cinch to chase Mark Christman off third for the Browns. A 10-second sprinter in the 100-yard dash, Dillinger is tabbed as lead off man.

Both are Southern Californians and ex-servicemen. Kiner, ex-Navy, got as high as Toronto in 1943. Dillinger, star of the Army's Pacific circuit, was with Toledo in 1942.

Cubs Have Pair
The Chicago Cubs may rely heavily on two ex-service recruits in their drive to repeat as National League champions. Marv Rickert, former Coast Guardsman, may take the left field job away from Harry Lowrey. Eddie Waitkus, Army paratrooper, looks almost as good at first base as he did four years ago after being named the Coast league's most valuable with Los Angeles.

The Chicago White Sox' best newcomers appear to be former GI Chet Hajduk, a robust-hitting combination first and second baseman, and Chuck Biggs, a smooth-fielding second sacker from Milwaukee.

The Pirates also have Catcher Vinnie Smith, Bob Feller's battery mate in the Navy, and Shortstop Billy Cox, apparently undimmed by four years in the Army. The Browns have another premier in First Baseman Chuck Stevens.

As yet, no young pitching stars have flashed for the four clubs here.

The win evened the three game set for the city Class B championship at one game apiece. The third and deciding contest will be run off sometime next week.

With big Louie Juliano as the mainstay of the attack, the Cavs roared into a 19-9 lead at the first quarter and were never headed although the Nazarenes threatened seriously in the last period when they chopped the Cavs' lead to three points on several occasions.

Juliano dumped in 10 points last night, all in the first half, and controlled the backboards in the second half until he left the game on fouls. Andy Parlow, with nine fouls, kept the Cavs in the game much of the last two periods.

Cavs Spurt, In Final
Dame Fortune smiled on the Cavs when the church fire's attack finally began to click in the waning minutes of the fray. The Nazarenes, after rallying to bring the count to 31-28 with more than a minute of play remaining, lost Glen Thorne, Gene Hanna and Francis McLaughlin on fouls and were forced to conclude the contest with but four players.

Jerry Hanna's sparkling offensive play was responsible for 15 of the Cavs' points.

The Nazarenes failed to show the aggressiveness which brought them victory in the first game of the playoff and appeared to be dazed.
